The internment of Japanese Americans in the United States during World War II was the forced relocation and incarceration in concentration camps in the western interior of the country of between 110,000 and 120,000 people of Japanese ancestry, most of whom lived on the Pacific coast. First, a bit about the ship itself. It was a Leahy-Class ship. At the time, it was classified as a guided missile frigate (DLG). It was one of nine ships of the Leahy (DLG 16) Class that entered service between 1962 and 1964. It will be many years before anyone can predict a hurricane's behavior with much accuracy. To meet the needs of all the citizens on the homefront equally, a rationing system was implemented during World War II in nearly every country.
